

February 2010 Art

02/02/2010 Introduction to color theory:

This week we will be discovering the endless possibilities of mixing colors together. Creating art pieces with a theme of each member's choice. Blending shades, and creating new hues, and values.

02/09/2010 Monochromatic Valentine:

Each member will be working with the color red. This lesson will show the group how using the color red mixed with white and black will create various new shades. Each member will be encouraged to make either a valentine or a larger painting inspired by the passion and love in the color red.

This week members will select their piece for the art and soul exhibit.

02/16 and 23/2010 Textile splatter design:

We will be creating and designing textile patterns. Using action art and the concepts of color. On large pieces of fabric we will be applying fabric paint and stencils using various household objects. Spray bottles, sponges, rags, brushes, etc. Everyone will be encouraged to move around, dance, and get a little messy. The hopes are to make either frame able pieces of textile art.
